

---

Adler gets honor from conservative group

By JANE ROH • Courier-Post Staff • September 28, 2010

honm (be2. ) -1(a)-5 traditijnallycjnive gtibeup -.0902T9 Tw(000

Democrats to receive its Guardian of Small Business Award. Nearly all Republican incumbents were also given the honor, Adler's campaign and congressional office noted.

"Right now, the government needs to get out of the way and let the private sector do what it does best: create jobs," Adler said in a statement. "I'm working to find bipartisan ways to cut taxes, regulations and red-tape for the small businesses in our area."

The NFIB actively opposed the health care reform

---

decades before winning the seat in 2008, received a 55 percent favorable opinion and 38 percent job approval. That makes him about as popular as