

birth control and basic preventative health services.

A mother of four sons, she promised to bring a mother's experience and work ethic to Washington.

"We need more moms in Congress. And as a Congress mom, I will fight with every fiber of my body to do right by you and your family each and every day."