Leading Public Safety Union Cite Strong Support For Firefighters And Their Families.

EGG HARBOR TWP, NJ – The Professional Firefighters Association of New Jersey recently announced their support of Assemblymen John Amodeo and Chris Brown for re-election to the New Jersey General Assembly in the Second Legislative District. Amodeo and Brown were two of only three Republicans who received the organization's endorsement statewide.

"It is a privilege to receive the support of an organization that represents the brave firefighters that work tirelessly to keep our communities safe on a daily basis," said Amodeo. "I am proud of Chris' and my record in the Assembly fighting and advocating for those who work tirelessly on behalf of New Jersey's families."

A major endorsement from one of New Jersey's leading public safety organizations, PFANJ is the statewide organization representing professional firefighters, emergency medical and allied support services personnel with 4,000 uniformed first responders throughout New Jersey and affiliated with the 270,00 member International Association of Fire Fighters. Locally, the organization's membership includes: Local 198, Atlantic City; Local 2657, Brigantine; Local 4370, Linwood; Local 2364, Northfield; Locals #2616 and 4928, Pleasantville; and, Local S18 representing the A.C. International Airport Firefighters.

"Serving the people in the Legislature has taught me about the sacrifices we all have had to make, but nothing compares to the sacrifices firefighters make every day when they respond to calls for help," said Brown. "Be it medical, a life threatening fire in our home, or to help a senior citizen who had taken a bad fall, our firefighters answer the call so I am proud to answer their call in Trenton."

In addition to a strong record for working families, Amodeo and Brown have successfully passed this session a number of bills directly supporting firefighters and their families. They sponsored the law ensuring lifetime benefits go to spouses of
