

Home

Coffin political leaning

Saturday, May 30, 2009

BY MICHAEL BUSLER

Should we bury ourselves with the conservatives on the right or the liberals on the left? This has been a make our own judgments without social norms. Liberalized attitudes have led to many behaviors that conservatives simply would not do. Joy became indulgence and fun. And we have become

Then we fell right into the trap we were Primarily because we were better educated than any generation before us. We were paid for our sins. That someone else became us. to overtax the citizenry, especially those of us who were reasonably successful.

Government had to had to swing our support to the conservative side. We believed that

We

W w x

www

www

www

and their uncertainty about the company's ability to raise additional capital that it may need to

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's

to the extent that the company's ability to raise additional capital is uncertain, the company's