Democrats bash Christie and Trump

By Andrew Seidman TRENTON BUREAU

Democratic gubernatorial candidates from left Jim Johnson, Raymond J. Lesniak, Phil Murphy, and John S. Wisniewski at the first debate before the primary, at Stockton University. TOM GRALISH / Staff Photographer

GALLOWAY, N.J. — The New Jersey Democrats running for governor used their first debate before next month's primary to bash Gov. Christie's stewardship of the economy, environment, and public schools, and called for a liberal counterbalance to President Trump.

Sharing the same stage for the first time Tuesday at Stockton University, two of the contenders attaf d the front oal?, the m

The next Democratic debate is scheduled for May 18 in Newark.

ASeidman@phillynews.com

856 779 3846

@ AndrewSeidman

See this article in the e Edition Here