

Annual Student Dance Concert ChoreoProject in Stockton's Experimental Theatre Dec. 4-7

For Immediate Release

Monday November 24, 2014

Contact: Maryjane Briant

News and Media Relations Director with the audience from Dec. 4 - Dec. 7 at The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey

proximity

es

-continued from page 1-

variety of choreographic experiences throughout the Dance Composition class. The class, taught by Professor and Director of Dance teaches choreographic theory and the practice of composition through traditional methods.

A good dancer is also a good choreographer - it's a different talent. Van Kuiken. "There are skills to be taught and mastered that bring that talent to dancers. They find a voice in their own way. That's an enjoyable part of teaching choreography - helping young artists each find their voice."

Each year, I am excited to see the creativity of the students bring to the choreography and performance," as Rain Rosas, as well as seeing how the student lighting designers bring their own vision to the stage. The talent of these students is evident in their performances.

"ChoreoProject has historically sure to get you quickly," Rosas quickly added.

ChoreoProject will be performed at The Richard Stockton College Experimental Theatre from Dec. 4-Dec. 7, at 7:30 night (Thursday, Saturday) and 2 p.m. on Sunday. Tickets are $10 for general admission and $8 for students and seniors. Call the Box Office at (609)-652-9000.

The Stockton Box Office is open Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. and 90 minutes before each performance. The Experimental Theatre is located on the campus of The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey, 101 Veoy King Farris Drive (609)-11.2(t). (n)10.5(s) (eg)-1