

Associate Professor Amy Hadley of Galloway, N.J. Selected for Stuttering Therapy Workshop

Hadley Chosen as One of 15 Speech-Language Pathologists to Attend

For Immediate Release

Tuesday, July 12, 2016

Contact:       Christina Butterfield
                      News and Media Relations
                      Galloway, NJ 08205
                      Christina.Butterfield@stockton.edu
                      (609) 626-3845
                      www.stockton.edu/media

Galloway, N.J. Amy Hadley, associate professor and director of the Communication Disorders program at Stockton University, was one of only 15 speech-language patholog

-Continued from page 1-

The Stuttering Foundation, one of the workshop co-sponsors, estimates that over 3 million Americans stutter. Although no cure exists, a qualified speech clinician can help children and adults make significant progress toward fluent speaking.