Galloway , NJ - To honor the life stories of his parents, Holocaust survivors Wally and Lutz Hammerschlag, Lennard Hammerschlag this week pledged $100,000 to a new Stockton University Foundation fund that will benefit educators who are committed to ensuring that the mission of Holocaust education and remembrance continues.

Hammerschlag, who has residences in Atlantic City, N.J. and Zimbabwe, said he wishes to honor the memory of his mother, Wally (Moritz) Hammerschlag of Frankfurt am Main, Germany, who was an eyewitness to the violent anti-Jewish pogrom of November 9-10, 1938 known as Kristallnacht; and his father, Ludwig Adolf Hammerschlag, known as Lutz, whose family had lived in Germany for generations and could trace their ancestry going back centuries.

The Wally and Lutz Hammerschlag Educator Fellowship is a permanently restricted fund which can only be used to provide academic financial awards to educators attending and/or participating in professional development opportunities available through The Sara and Sam Schoffer Holocaust Resource Center at Stockton. The donor said he intends to fulfill this pledge within a 10-year period.
