Galloway Township , NJ- Don Hudson has been named the new associate vice president for Facilities and Construction at The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

Hudson previously worked at Burlington County College, where he held the position of executive director of Planning, Construction and Facility Operations since 1999, said Charles Ingram, vice president for Administration and Finance.

"He brings with him vast experience in a number of different areas, some of which include: capital projects and master planning, real estate acquisition and development, design and construction programming, bidding and negotiation, contracts, construction management and cost analysis, risk assessment and supervisory experience of Physical Plant, including maintenance, mechanics, engineering, grounds and custodial services," said Ingram.

Hudson received his B.A. from University of North Carolina at Charlotte and his Bachelor of Architect Professional degree from Drexel University.
