Galloway, NJ - Dr. Harvey Kesselman, an alumnus who was a member of Stockton's first class in the Mayflower Hotel on the Boardwalk in Atlantic City in 1971, today was named president of Stockton University by the Board of Trustees.

Southern Regional Institute (SRI) and Educational Technology Training Center (ETTC), and vice president for Student Affairs.

He implemented Stockton's Essential Learning Outcomes initiative, extended the community partnerships and global reach of the institution, and supported faculty initiatives and scholarly innovation through the university's 2020 strategic planning process.

Kesselman has been appointed by New Jersey governors and state education leaders to serve as the senior college representative on a number of authorities, committees and task forces. He served on the Executive Committee of the Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (HESAA), which oversees New Jersey's $1 billion student financial aid program.

He remains involved in many national academic organizations. He is a frequent presenter at the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU), the American Council on Education (ACE), and the Society for College and University Planning (SCUP). He also serves as a reviewer for the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE.)

His compensation will include a $4,000-a-month housing allowance and the continued use of a car. This is $1,200 per month less than the previous president received. There are provisions
