Galloway, NJ Stockton University was ranked the #8 Best College in New Jersey by Niche.com, a startup founded by Carnegie Mellon University students, originally known as CollegeProwler.com, which provides reviews and insight to inform and educate the public on neighborhoods, colleges and K-12 schools.

The Best Colleges ranking is a comprehensive assessment of 1,713 colleges in the nation examining the total quality of the education and experience provided by the college, explains Niche.com. The grade takes into account key factors such as the strength of the academic program, the aptitude of professors, the quality of campus amenities, the general character of student life, as well as student reviews in an attempt to measure the overall excellence of the college experience.

Stockton was also ranked by Niche.com as #3 for Best College Dorms in New Jersey, #4 for Best College Campuses in New Jersey and #5 for Top Public Universities in New Jersey.
