Stockton Center on Successful Aging Presents Free Money Management Session for Seniors

Free Workshop for Older Adults Set for July 26

For Immediate Release

(SCOSA)

information session to help older adults make the most of their fixed budget. The Savvy Saving Senior is set for Thursday, July 26, 2012, at 10:30 a.m. in the Canoe Club Senior Center located at 100 Sports Drive, Hammonton Lake (609-339-6572). All older adults are welcome, and no registration is required.

More than half of all senior households do not have sufficient financial resources to cover their median projected expenses based on their current financial net worth, projected income, and pension income. This 90-minute program is designed to provide participants with money management concepts for a fixed budget, the benefits of banking, and public benefits and how to access and retain them.
