

19th Annual 'Salute to Stockton' Summer Speaker Series Set

Public Invited to Presentations at Congregation Beth Judah in Ventnor

For Immediate Release; wi speaker photos on flickr

Monday, June 20, 2016

Contact: Maryjane Briant
News and Media Relations Director
Galloway Township, NJ 08205
Maryjane.Briant@Stockton.edu
(609) 652-4593

Galloway, N.J. - Faculty from Stockton University will give presentations on topics ranging from Exercise Science - the university's newest program, to gender equity in sports, community involvement and a finale summer-fest musical program, as Temple Emeth Shalom sponsors its 19th annual "Salute to Stockton" lecture series this summer, in conjunction with Congregation Beth Judah.

-continued from page 1-

New Jersey, which studies have ranked the state's least healthy region. In addition, federal and state labor statistics show the health and fitness field is growing fast, with national, state and local career opportunities.

Dougherty received her M.S. in Translational Research from the University of Pennsylvania and her Ph.D. and M.S. in Kinesiology, emphasis in Exercise Physiology, from the Pennsylvania State University. She completed a postdoctoral fellowship at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and previously was a research assistant professor of Pediatrics in the Department of Pediatrics, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania. She is a resident of Northfield.

Friday, Aug. 5: "Women in Sports" - Eileen Conran-Folks, director of Stockton's Hammonton & Manahawkin Instructional Sites, will speak about Title IX in education and sports and gender equity in sports.

Conran-Folks is director of Stockton's Hammonton & Manahawkin Instructional Sites and has