Galloway Twp., NJ – The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey will conduct Commencement Exercises for its 36th four-year class on Saturday May 10, 2008 in the Sports Center on the Galloway Twp. campus.

There will be two separate ceremonies for different divisions of the College. All Graduate Studies, Arts and Humanities, Professional Studies, Business and Education candidates will take part in a 10:30 a.m. ceremony. All General Studies, Natural Science and Mathematics, and Social and Behavioral Science candidates will participate in a ceremony at 2:00 p.m. In addition, there will be a special “Hooding Ceremony” to give extra recognition to the Masters Degree candidates. This event will take place 8:30 a.m. in the Stockton Performing Arts Center.

Admission tickets are distributed to each graduate. See your graduate to obtain a ticket to the event.

Paul Spyros Sarbanes, Former U.S. Senator from Maryland and the longest-serving senator in Maryland’s history with a career spanning 30 years in the Senate will speak at the morning ceremony. Stockton Board of Trustees member Ms. Madeleine Deininger will give the keynote address at the afternoon ceremony.

A projected total of more than 1,000 spring undergraduate candidates will participate in the ceremonies.
