

Stockton Center on Successful Aging Presents Workshop at Noyes Museum of Art On Weaving Seats for Stools

For Immediate Release

Wednesday, May 15, 2013

Contact: Maryjane Briant
Interim Director of News & Media Relations
Galloway Township, NJ 08205
Maryjane.Briant @stockton.edu
(609) 652-4593

Galloway, NJ – The Stockton Center on Successful Aging (SCOSA) presents a craft workshop for seniors on Saturday, June 1, 2013 at the Noyes Museum of Art of the Richard Stockton College of New Jersey. It runs from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Museum, 733 Lilly Lake Road, just off Route 9 in the Oceanville section of Galloway.

Participants at the workshop will learn how to weave a seat for a solid oak unfinished footstool.