

STOCKTON

Stockton Center on Successful Aging Presents Efficiently Independent— Save Energy, Save Money

Free Information Workshop on Reducing Energy Use and Saving Money with Free Winterization Services for Seniors at Campus Center March 7

For Immediate Release

Monday, February 20, 2012

Contact: Tim Kelly
Office of Public Relations
Galloway Township, NJ 08240
Tim.Kelly@stockton.edu
(609) 652-4950

Galloway Twp., NJ - The Stockton Center on Successful Aging (SCOSA) and NJPIRG's Energy Service Corps at Stockton have planned a free information session on reducing energy use and costs through winterization services on March 7, 2012 at 10:30 am in Stockton's Campus Center, Meeting Room 1, Galloway.

Escalating energy demands and costs, climate change and environmental degradation combined with uncertain financial times are placing increased strain on both the planet and its inhabitants. For traditionally underserved or atthermostats. These simple changes can save up to 30 percent on utility bills and greatly reduce the amount of energy used in the home.

.# # #