

Faculty-Led Study Tour Shaped by Lives of Holocaust Survivors

The past lives of local Holocaust survivors and their families shaped this summer's Study Tour, taking a group of 46 from Stockton to sites in Poland, Lithuania and Germany.

The students, faculty and others explored Vilnius, Lithuania with Holocaust survivor Donald Berkman of Margate, who was 3 when he escaped from the ghetto to the forests of Lithuania with his mother. They were constantly on the move, sometimes sheltering in root cellars and barns, and living for over two years on potatoes, bread, and even grass.

Second-generation Holocaust

Send Us Your News!

We want to know about things going on in the Stockton community. Do you have an unusual hobby? Did one of your co-workers win an award or perform outstanding public service? Births, weddings, graduations and the like are all good things to submit to . Contact the editor at (609) 652-4593 or e-mail StocktonTimes@stockton.edu
