

Special points of interest:

Hammonton Center on Track for September Classes

Stockton's Recruitment Effort Wins Award

Michael Angulo Joins Office of General Counsel

2020 Funding Awards

Professor Gandica to plans for a major presence in Hammonton are currently taking shape. The College partnered with the Town of Hammonton to acquire and renovate a former garment and shoe factory located on Front Street, just off the main street of Bellevue Avenue and steps from the rail station and bus stations linking the town with Stockton's main campus. Students at the Hammonton Center will also have easy access to the downtown area's many restaurants and retail businesses.

"Based on the success of our current cour

Hammonton Continued From Page One

cultural events to South Jersey residents.

The Center contains 6 smart classrooms, 5 semi-

Michael Angulo Joins Office of General Counsel

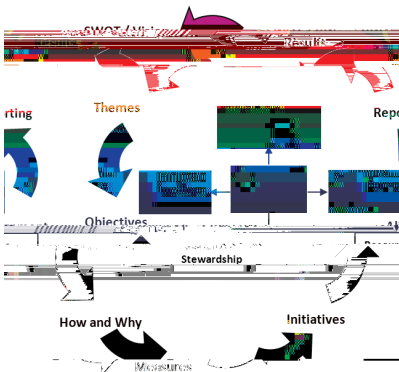

Michael Angulo has joined Stockton as the Interim Legal Counsel in the Office of General Counsel. Mr. Angulo served as Executive Director for the Higher Education Student Assistance Authority in Trenton from 2004 to 2011, Assistant Counsel in the Office of the Governor in Trenton from 2002 to 2004 and clerked for the Honorable Frank M. Lario, Jr., Superior Court of New Jersey, Camden County. His career reflects committed success as legal counsel for state organizations where he addressed higher education issues. Mr. Angulo's volunteer contributions to the State are equally stellar as he served on the Supreme Court of New Jersey, District IV Ethics Committee and received the Community Service award from the New Jersey State Bar Association.

Mr. Angulo received his Bachelor of Science in Financial Management from the Catholic University of America and earned his Juris Doctor at Rutgers University School of Law in Camden.

We hope everyone will welcome Mr. Angulo to his new role at Stockton.

Michael Angulo has joined Stockton as the Interim Legal Counsel in the Office of General Counsel.

2020 Funding Awards

Congratulations to all the Stockton 2020 project proposers that our Initiatives Teams have coached to successful approval by the Steering Committee. For FY12, President Saatkamp has allocated $150,000 in funding for these initiatives, some of which has already been awarded.

Initiatives Teams are still finalizing proposals for the last Spring 2012 review meeting on April 4, and a new review cycle will be announced for Academic Year 2012-13. For more information about Stockton 2020, click here.

Professor Gandica to Speak at Physics Convention

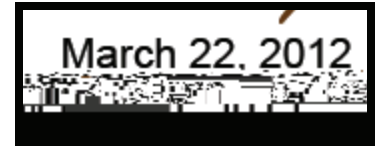

On Saturday, March 24, Adjunct Professor Alfonso Gandica will speak at the American Association of Physics Teachers Convention at Princeton University where he will review the current global energy situation with its geopolitical, economic and environmental dimensions. Special emphasis will be given to "Reinventing Fire: Bold Business Solutions for the new Energy Era," (Chelsea Green Publishing) the recent book by Amory Lovins, founder of the Rocky Mountain Institute. President Bill Clinton calls the book "a wise, detailed, and comprehensive blueprint."

Professor Gandica formed the Information and Systems Science Department at Stockton in 1972. He was also Atlantic City Electric's Project Manager for Stockton's Geothermal Field Project and the Photovoltaic Project on the roof of the Arts & Sciences Building in the mid-1990s. Professor Gandica developed an interdisciplinary seminar, "Energy and Ethics," in 1995 to help students become more aware of the U.S. energy situation and its economic, environmental and political factors.

Professor Gandica is a member of the Stockton Foundation's Board of Trustees. He and his wife Esther live in Linwood, NJ.

Adjunct Professor Alfonso Gandica will speak at the American Association of Physics Teachers Convention at Princeton University.

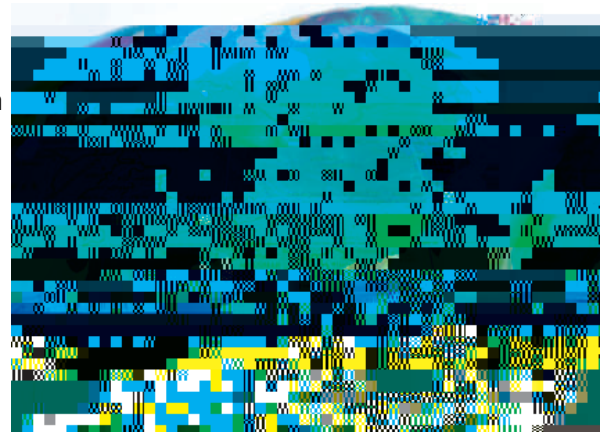

All faculty are encouraged
[Redacted]

GRANTS OFFICE
The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey

Save the Date to Celebrate!

Save the date for Stockton's International Celebration, Friday, March 23 at the Campus Center and D-Wing Gallery. The plenary address will be given by Small Business Administration's Edward Haddock. His topic, "Global Business Opportunities," will be followed with breakout sessions including faculty perspectives, visual and performing arts, a crafts workshop and a student-filmed documentary.

A keynote address will be given by Susan Sutton from the Association of International Education Administrators. Afternoon breakout sessions will include: study abroad, study tours, international careers workshop and Books Without Borders.

Send Us Your News!

We want to know about things going on in the Stockton community. If your fellow employees should hear about it, we want to know about it to help spread the word.

Do you have an unusual hobby? Did one of your co-workers win an award or perform outstanding public service? Births, weddings, graduations and the like are all good things to submit to the Stockton Times.

Contact Editor Tim Kelly at (609) 652-4950 or e-mail Stocktontimes@stockton.edu.

STOCKTON