

In an effort to ensure that Stockton University remains a safe and secure campus, a team assembled from throughout the University has developed a comprehensive website designed to share pertinent information in the event of an emergency.

The website advises what is expected when an emergency impacts the University community.

Some examples of these emergencies are: active shooter/hostage situation/suspicious person; assault/fights/terrorism; bomb threats; campus disturbance/riot/power outages; earthquake/inclement winter weather; fire/fire alarms/hazardous materials; weapons/suspicious mail; suicide attempt/serious injury/death; and hurricane/tornado/waterspout.

The Stockton University community is encouraged to review and bookmark the website

School of General Studies Welcomes New Faculty Members

Editor's note: We will feature new faculty and staff members as more information becomes available. Welcome!

Lawrence Baron joins as the Ida E. King Distinguished Visiting Scholar in Holocaust and Genocide Studies for the Fall 2015 semester. He comes to Stockton from San Diego State University where he is professor emeritus, former Abraham Nasatir Professor in Modern Jewish History, and director of the Jewish Studies program for 18 years. Before his appointment at San Diego State University, he taught at St. Lawrence University. Baron earned a Ph.D. in History from the University of Wisconsin and a B.A. in History from the University of Illinois. Baron served on the research team for Sam and Pearl Olin-

School of General Studies Welcomes New Faculty Members Continued

Geoffrey Gust joins as an assistant professor of Writing in the First-Year Studies program, after completing a one-year appointment as a visiting assistant professor of Writing at Stockton. Gust earned a Ph.D. in English from the University of York in England, an M.A. in English from Arizona State University, and a B.A. in English, with a concentration in secondary education, from Drake University. He has over a decade of teaching experience at Arizona State University and Temple University, where he taught medieval studies and a variety of literature and writing courses. In 2009, Gust published “Constructing Chaucer.”

Marcy Isabella joins as an assistant professor of Writing in the First-Year Studies program. She received a Ph.D. in English, with a concentration in rhetoric and composition, from the University of Rhode Island, where she taught a variety of courses in the Writing and Rhetoric major. Isabella also served as interim director of the Writing Center at the University of Rhode Island. Isabella holds an M.A. in English from the University at Albany, The State University of New York. Her research interests include the ways writing and rhetoric can work for and against individuals, communities, and social institutions. In addition, Dr. Isabella has research interests in writing program assessment, writing center pedagogy, teaching practicums, and critical classrooms.

Nancy Reddy joins as an assistant professor of Writing in the First-Year Studies program. She received a Ph.D. in Composition and Rhetoric and an M.F.A. in Poetry from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Her research interests include writing pedagogy, archival research, and extracurricular literacies and writing groups. Reddy’s first book of poetry, “Double Jinx,” was a winner of the 2014 National Poetry Series award and will be published by Milkweed Editions in September 2015. She also co-authored an article forthcoming in the journal Literacy in Composition Studies.

Emily Van Duyne joins as an assistant professor of Writing in the First-Year Studies program, after completing a one-year appointment as a Visiting Assistant Professor of Writing at Stockton University. Van Duyne received an M.F.A. from Pine Manor College, where she concentrated on writing and studying poetry. She also received a B.F.A. from Emerson College in Literature and Creative Writing, with a minor in Women and Gender Studies. Her poetry has most recently appeared in Prague Revue, Contrary, Diagram, and Mead. Her article on contingent faculty is forthcoming in The Chronicle of Higher Education.

---

Stockton’s Steven and Jennifer Radwanski Welcome Baby Boy

Steven Radwanski, associate director for Residential Life Operations, and Jennifer Radwanski, associate director of Event Services & New Student Programs, welcomed their second child. Evan Edward Radwanski was born Nov. 3 at 4:30 a.m. He weighed in at 7 pounds, 3 ounces and measured 19 inches long.

Big sister Avery is excited to welcome a little brother. Congratulations to the Radwanski family!

Send Us Your News!

